Changes in Net Assets

During 2013, United to End Genocide made a significant investment in time and resources to assure that two of its traditional programs, STAND and Conflict Risk Network (CRN), could be transitioned to allied organizations that are positioned to provide support for their continued services and development. Both of these transitions were successful iwth the CRN process being completed in May 2013. They notably include a commitment from all parties to continue to work in close coordination toward the realization of the goal of preventing and stopping genocide and mass atrocities. This "win-win" development will strengthen the movement and all of the organizations involved.
